ED SHERIFF BRAVELY HEARS COURT'S SENTENCE

The others had been guilty of participation in the ing of a Federal prisoner. Williams and Nolan were giv- ntences of ninety days' imprison- each, while Gibson, Padgett and s each received sixty days.

"We are very well pleased with the tment given us by Warden Mc- , and are delighted with the quar- assigned us."

A few hours in jail made Gibson dissatisfied. He told his companions at this was not the first time that had been in prison in Washington. "But the other time I was brought as a Confederate prisoner," he id.

The Six Defendants.

This was the second time in the history of the Supreme Court of the United States that that august body had imposed a sentence upon citizens, held guilty of disregarding its mandates. The previous occasion was in another generation.

Heading the little group of six men, found guilty of contempt, as they took their places before the black-robed justices, was Capt. Shipp, the sheriff in Chattanooga, Tenn., when he offended the court. His tall, straight figure, his seamed face and his gray-streaked beard, told of his long service in the army of the Confederacy.

Bowed down under his 76 years, Jeremiah Gibson, the jailer, stood with him. With bedimed eyes he looked upon the long white locks of the chief justice, himself 76 years of age, who would soon pronounce sentence upon him, and send him to prison. He and Capt. Shipp had been found guilty of failing to protect a negro, waiting to be hanged on a charge of a heinous crime against a white woman, after the Supreme Court of the United States had stayed his execution.

Shipp Brave in Court.

The contempt case was taken up yesterday as soon as the justices took their places in the court room. Solicitor Bowers of the Department of Justice, upon receiving a nod of recognition from Chief Justice Fuller, called the attention of the court to the fact that the defendants were in court in response to its order and suggested that the court impose sentence.

The chief justice directed Chief Clerk McKenney to call the defendants before the bar. As the names of the six men, the sheriff, the jailer, the four men charged with having been members of the mob that took Johnson's life, rang through the little court room a stillness as of death settled over all. From each defendant came the solitary word "present." They then stood up for sentence.

Chief Justice Fuller then read the sentences.

Sheriff Shipp took the sentence more calmly than the others. After the chief justice had concluded he walked over to Marshal Wright and asked him where this officer of the court wanted him to go.

Tears came to Padgett's eyes and he used his handkerchief freely. Williams sat down as if exhausted when Attorney Chamlee asked that his client be sent to Atlanta. He remained sitting until Attorneys Clift and Shepperd made similar requests for the other defendants. The marshal of the court deputized the marshal of the District of Columbia to take the men to jail.

Four Held as Lynchers.

Luther Williams, Nick Nolan, Henry Padgett and William Mayes, residents of Chattanooga, found guilty of participation in the lynching of Ed Johnson, formed the rest of the group. Before them all sat the officials of the Department of Justice. Around them in the little court room were their attorneys and other lawyers, while the three rows of seats for spectators were crowded.

The proceedings were practically without precedent. In 1875 John Chiles, a business man of Texas, was brought before the court for contempt in connection with dealings in Texas indemnity bonds, contrary to an order of the Supreme Court. He was fined $250. But that instance lacked the interest of the case yesterday. In it were involved no race question, no lynching, no interference with State jurisdiction; only the majesty of the law as interpreted by the highest court of the land.

The present case originated in the court's decision in March, 1906, to consider the appeal of Johnson from a verdict of the Tennessee courts holding him guilty and sentencing him to be hanged on a charge of assault. The night after the determination of the Supreme Court to review the proceedings was wired to Chattanooga, a mob stormed the jail, took the prisoner out and lynched him.

Story of the Case.

The court was much incensed by the lynching and at its instance the Attorney-General instituted proceedings against Sheriff Shipp, Jailer Gibson and twenty-five others supposed to have been implicated in the lynching, charging them with contempt. Many of the accused were exonerated and in the end only six were found guilty.

The finding of the court was announced in May, just before the close of the term of court, but all the defendants entered motions of rehearing, which had the effect of postponing action until this fall. On November 1 rehearing was denied and the six men ordered before the court for sentence yesterday.

HAD A BIG TRIP.

Two Gainesville People Enjoy Hospitality of LaFayette Friends.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Jackson have returned from a two weeks' outing spent with McQueen and T. P. Chaires and families, and Mrs. Green Chaires, of Old Town, LaFayette county.

One week of their time was spent at Horse Shoe bay, on the Gulf Coast, where fish, oysters, and small game, such as duck, quail and squirrel, were kept constantly in camp in abundance.

At the end of the week the party moved camp to a point fifteen or twenty miles, where plenty of deer and bear abound. They were there in plenty, but the bear appeared too sharp for the hunters, and a poor old faithful hound was the only member of the party to come in contact with Bruin.

Four very fine deer were killed, one by T. P. Chaires, which Mr. Jackson declared was the largest he ever saw. Mr. Jackson, by persistent begging, got the horns of this buck, of which he is justly proud, on account of their unusual size.

Each of the gentlemen in the party got a fine buck to their credit, and Mrs. Jackson would have gotten one had it not been for her horse becoming frightened at the approaching deer, when it came near throwing her.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson speak in glowing terms of the hospitality extended them at the hands of friends, of whom they were guests.

OFF FOR A CRUISE.

Commodore Beale, Dr. Herzog and E. E. Voyle to Take a Trip.

A jolly trio consisting of Commodore R. W. Beale, Uniontown, Pa., and Dr. H. Herzog and E. E. Voyle of this city, left a day or two ago for St. Augustine, from whence they will take a most interesting cruise, which it is needless to add will prove an enjoyable and beneficial one.

These gentlemen expect to take a thirty-foot motor launch, eight-horse-power, at St. Augustine, and will cruise leisurely along the Atlantic coast around Cape Sable, into the Gulf and up the coast to Cedar Key, stopping at intervals at their own pleasure.

This trip promises to prove of a rather unique interest, inasmuch as the occupants of the launch propose to take life easy, at the same time braving weather conditions. They are well prepared for such a cruise, however, being equipped with everything possible for comfort. They expect to return to Gainesville about Christmas, when they will probably have some remarkable stories in store for their friends.

MINE HORROR MADE 200 WIDOWS, 1,000 ORPHANS

Fire Breaks Out Again in Fatal Colliery and Hope Is Abandoned for Mine Victims.

CHERRY, Ill., Nov. 16.—The three hundred or more miners who were entombed in the St. Paul coal mine by last Saturday's fire, are dead. Some of the bodies lie buried beneath thousands of tons of earth which caved in upon them and it is doubtful whether many of the bodies can ever be recovered.

This was the opinion expressed last night when rescue work was temporarily abandoned. Fires in the mine, which broke out with renewed fierceness early yesterday, made further descends by rescuers impossible.

Fans employed in an effort to carry fresh air and life down to the imprisoned men served only to enliven embers which sprang into flames. Soon the heat and smoke became so dense that it was necessary again to seal the mouth of the hoisting shaft and the men down there, whatever their condition, are locked in as effectively as in a dungeon.

300 Coffins Ordered.

Whether attempts to take out the bodies will be made today depends on the condition of the internal fires. It is possible that carbonic acid gas will be forced to the bottom of the mine to choke the flames. It was said last night that three hundred coffins have been ordered. Half of them will arrive today and half the following day. Meantime the several score of nurses who were rushed here look forward to no prospect of heroic work in reviving injured men. It is believed that no one will be brought out of the mine alive.

Hope swung frequently in the balance yesterday. Before the fire broke out again, rescuers descended four times into the shaft. Then the rumor circulated quickly through the crowds that the men below had been reached and that the reason they were not brought up immediately was that they were exhausted by lack of food, and the smoke.

1,000 Orphans, 200 Widows.

But the truth was far different. The rescuers did, on one occasion, go down three hundred feet to the bottom of the hoisting shaft. Then groping their way with electric lamps and kept alive by oxygen carried with them, they penetrated 150 feet into the bottom gallery. But none of the miners, either dead or alive, was found.

"Hey, are you there?" cried the rescuers, but nothing was heard in response.

It was conjectured the miners had crawled for safety into the recesses remotest from the fire, but to these parts the rescuers were unable to go without re-ascending. Before they could descend again the fire had broken out. Gradually the crowd about the mouth of the shaft began to thin as hope seemed to wane.

The spectacle about the mouth of the wrecked mine at dusk was pathetic. A tall skeleton framework of iron reaching skyward, surrounded by a group of low wooden buildings, which a few days ago had been the scene of industry, suggested by their desolation that hope had been abandoned. Only a half dozen guards patrolled the premises. In the distance, scattered over the field, a few women, wrapped in shawls, looked on in silence.

As a result of the disaster there are in this town of only a few hundred inhabitants at least 1,000 orphans and 200 widows. These are the figures of Dundan McDonald, president of District No. 21, United Mine Workers, who instituted a rollcall of the families of the entombed miners.

Court of Appeals Denies Stay in the Gompers Case

TORONTO, Nov. 16.—Just as the convention of the American Federation of Labor was about to adjourn for the day a telegram was received from Washington announcing that the stay asked for by the attorneys for President Gompers, Vice-President Mitchell and Secretary Morrison, in the proceedings against them for contempt of court, had been denied by the court of appeals of the District of Columbia. President Gompers was plainly surprized and as he read the message to the convention the delegates sat in silence as though dazed by the court's action.

"That means that the resources of the lawyers have been exhausted, doesn't it?" asked one of the delegates.

"The chair is not in a position to state," replied President Gompers. Then as he read the message stating "the mandate goes down Saturday morning," the faces of himself and his fellow officers betrayed the anxiety under which they were laboring.

A telegram signed by the three defendants was at once dispatched to their counsel in Washington asking when it would be necessary for them to put in an appearance to avoid forfeiting their bail bonds, which amount to $11,000, and stating that they would like to remain in Toronto until the close of the convention Saturday evening.

"I am not certain whether under the laws of the District of Columbia we can appeal," said Mr. Gompers after adjournment. "But if we do go, the convention must stay here and carry on its proceedings in a dignified and orderly manner."

"We'll charter a train and all go down with you," volunteered one of the delegates. "And even the seceders will join you," added J. J. Reid, president of the seceding faction of the Electrical Workers.

The suggestion that the convention be adjourned to Washington in the event of the departure of Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison, was taken seriously by many of the delegates and it was said a resolution to that effect might be prepared.

Pending the receipt of a reply from Washington the executive council held a long session last night at which plans for meeting the situation which confronts the three laborers were discussed.

Many of the delegates have expressed disapproval of the plan suggested by the Central Labor Union of Philadelphia that a two weeks' general strike be ordered as a protest against the contempt imprisonments.

In the case of the State vs. Jim Johnson and James Hunt, charged with obstructing a railroad track by tying a mule thereon, a severance was granted as to Jim Johnson, and James Hunt was placed on trial. At a late hour last night the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

A special venire of fifty was ordered in the case of the State vs. Lewis Martin, Cronin Martin and George Powers, charged with rape, said venire returnable at 9 o'clock this morning.

A DELIGHTFUL OCCASION.

Reception Tendered to Sister Esther Carlotta Tuesday Afternoon.

One of the most thoroughly enjoyed social functions occurring in this city in some time was the reception tendered Sister Esther Carlotta, president of the Florida Division, U. D. C., by Kirby Smith Chapter at the home of Mrs. H. H. McCreary Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock.

The hallway and parlors had been decorated very appropriately, small Confederate flags and cut flowers being used to present a most inspiring and beautiful effect.

In the receiving line were the two chapter presidents, Mesdames McCreary and Kelley, Sister Esther Carlotta, president of the State Division, Dr. Davis and Mrs. Duncan, visiting Daughters in the city, and many of the chapter members and their friends called during the afternoon to greet the honored guest.

The following program was rendered and greatly appreciated:

Chapter called to order.

Lord's Prayer.

Suwannee River—Sung by Chapter.

Instrumental solo—Miss Julia Wainwright.

Recitation, "Bill Thay"—Miss Belle Sadler.

Vocal solo, "Florida, My Florida"—Miss Sue Simpson.

Address—Sister Esther Carlotta.

Vocal duet, "I Would That My Love"—(Mendelssohn)—Misses Pedrick and Sadler. Piano accompanist, Miss Isla Eddins.

Instrumental music—Miss Margaret Merchant.

"Dixie."

The address by Sister Carlotta was a great treat in itself. She gave a brief and concise account of the work done at the National convention, recently held at Houston, Tex., at which she held a proxy from Kirby Smith Chapter. Her remarks were listened to with a great deal of interest, as the ladies felt that they were in the presence of one who was thoroughly familiar with her subject, and all phases of U. D. C. work.

At the close of her remarks the president presented her with a beautiful bouquet of red and white crysanthemums, in behalf of the chapter historian, Mrs. F. M. Prewitt.

Delicious refreshments were served by Misses Louise Walker, Margaret Merchant and Irene McCreary, who wore dainty white dresses with red aprons.

Some people are so set in their opinions and so officious that they set up their own standard of ethics and expect everything to accept it.

If Mexico decides to adopt the policy of compulsory military service, we are likely to have another addition to our already over large immigration total.

The sharp tongue of the slanderer is more fatal than a Damascus blade. The one may kill the body, but the other often destroys the character and life.

An exchange refers to John Trice, editor of Florida, published at Tallahassee, as "a preacher." Not so, brother. He's only the "son of a preacher."

No State in the Union of the same population of Florida supports three such great morning daily newspapers as The Times-Union, Tampa Tribune and Pensacola Journal.

The best things after which we aspire may not always be possible, but we can make the best use of those things that are, and thus make progress in life and gain and give good.

It all depends upon the view point. Some theatrical and terpsichorean performances which admiring spectators call "high art," are regarded by others who take the moral view as very low art.

The man who sets about conquering himself has a hard struggle before him. But if he perseveres he wins, and the glory and blessing of the triumph amply repay for all the buffetings, wrestling and temporary checks experienced.

Has anyone ever noticed when a great corporation is so deep in trouble that there is no hope of vindication, there is always a touching desire on the part of its officers to "render the Government every assistance in their power?"

A good old Anglo-Saxon word, this "thank," from the same root as "think." It carries with it almost the meaning, of grace, favor, content, gratitude. A thankful man is not a heedless, a thoughtless man; he is a man who thinks. An unthankful man is a boor, he lacks grace.

Congressman Ollie James of Kentucky, of whom Frank Clark made such a facetious picture in his speech before the last Legislature, recently found a fifteen hundred dollar pearl in a raw oyster. The witty Florida Congressman probably looks upon this as casting pearls to the swine.

The crossing at the Jacksonville & Tampa railway depot is a most dangerous place for the passage of vehicles, and if a guard is not placed there to warn persons of the approach of trains a serious accident is likely to occur. West Liberty street, which is crossed by trains of this company, is used more than any thoroughfare in the city, and precaution against accident should be taken at once.

IN BEHALF OF JUDGE J. B. WALL.

Opposition to the re-election of the above-named able jurist having cropped out in his circuit, The Pasco County Progress takes up the cudgel for him in the following manner:

"Hysterical' instead of sympathetic reform is always dangerous, in truth it is not reform at all, it is destructive change. Any effort to defeat Hon. J. B. Wall, a capable and thoroughly tried official, who has adorned the bench and conserved justice, if successful, would be unfortunate. We have ever been persistent in our advocacy of the principle that a man who had served the people well should be retained in office, particularly where the office is that of circuit judge. It is an imperative necessity, where special knowledge and familarity with special duties are necessary to insure their proper performance and where it is more important that the public interests be well served by competent experts rather than by those seeking official place. It is the essence of good government to establish and maintain these principles, and it is passing strange that people should ever be asked to undo the best work of the reformers of the past. There is but little hope of permanent good if the fast land secured after years of effort is to be washed away by a flood of uncontrolled and misguided sentiment.

"Judge Wall has conducted his office free from the control or dictation of any man or set of men. He has no master but the law and his conscience. He has administered equal justice to all regardless of their condition. Under his administration the guilty have feared trial and the innocent were sure they would get justice.

"The very path of good government in administrative features consists quite as much in an accurate knowledge of the powers and duties of public officers by the incumbent, as a judicious, intelligent and fearless exercise of them. In fact, without the former the latter is not possible. Judge Wall has done his whole duty, and the best evidence of his ability and fidelity is that during the whole of his service there has not been an honest word of criticism by people or press. He has received the endorsement of the bar. They know best the duties of the office. They know best how the duties have been performed."

The above article is equally applicable to the entire judiciary of the State, including members of the supreme court.

A correspondent of The Gainesville Sun makes an eloquent plea for a beautiful French girl named Marie, living with her family on a Suwannee river plantation in early days, as the author of the famous song, "Old Folks at Home," beginning with the immortal line, "'Way Down Upon the S'wannee Ribber." We wish it were true that Marie or some other sweet Florida girl had written this exquisite ballad whose soft, plaintive music deserves to live forever, but facts respect neither sentiment nor romance, and it has been fully established that Stephen Collins Foster, author of "My Old Kentucky Home" and other popular songs, was also the composer of "Old Folks at Home." And, worst of all, he never saw the Suwannee river, and selected the name because of its melody and adaptability to the metre and sentiment of his song.—Live Oak Democrat.

FINDING WORK.

Some people are too easily discouraged. We are reminded of that by the recent case of a young married couple in Chicago who tried to commit suicide because they found no work. Their case excited much sympathy, for there is a good deal of the "milk of human kindness" in the world and it is always generously given to those who meet with misfortune.

The experience of this young couple conveys its lessons which other young people may well take to heart. Like too many others, this couple went to a large city probably in the belief that work there was plentiful and wages high. But in almost any business, for the majority of people seeking work, a large city is about the worst possible place, because of the super-abundance of labor. There are a few good prizes, but for every prize there are numerous blanks. Wages in smaller towns are lower than in a large city, but so is living, and there is not the competition born of an over supply of labor.

We do not know how it was in the case referred to, but with some people out of work there is a foolish pride which makes them refuse employment in any calling but that to which they have been bred. Sooner than do that they would rather starve or live on the charity of others.

For anyone willing and able to work employment can usually be found in this country at the present time. It may not always be the kind of work one would choose, but better take what one can, if it is honest, than be idle and live at the expense of others. Under no circumstances should anyone young and robust lose heart because sometimes he comes up against difficulties and hardships.

A treacherous wind hits you in the back and the next morning you have lumbago. GERMS IN HER SYSTEM

Every Woman Should Read This Advice and the Generous Offer That Goes With It.

The number of diseases peculiar to women is such that we believe this space would hardly contain a mere mention of their names, and it is a fact that most of these diseases are of a catarrhal nature. A woman cannot be well if there is a trace of catarrh in her system.

Some women think there is no help for them. We positively declare this to be a mistaken idea. We are so sure of this that we offer to supply medicine absolutely free of all cost in every instance where it fails to give satisfaction, or does not substantiate our claims. With this understanding, no woman should hesitate to believe our honesty of purpose, or hesitate to put our claims to a test.

There is only one way to overcome catarrh. That way is through the blood. You may use all the snuffs, douches or like remedies for years without getting more than temporary relief at best. Catarrh in general is a diseased condition of the system that shows locally most frequently in discharges from mucous membranes. Local treatment should be assisted by internal treatment for the general diseased condition of a complete cure is to be reached. That internal treatment should be scientifically devised and faithfully administered.

Rexall Mucu-Tone is scientifically prepared from the prescription of an eminent physician who for thirty years made catarrh his specialty. This remedy is admirably adapted to the treatment of the catarrhal ailments of women. It purifies and enriches the blood, tends to stop mucous discharges, aids in removing impurities from the system, soothes, heals and strengthens the mucous tissues, and brings about a feeling of health and strength.

We want you to try Rexall Mucu-Tone on our guarantee. If you are not benefited, or for any reason not satisfied, simply tell us and we will hand back your money. Rexall Mucu-Tone comes in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Gainesville only at our store—The Rexall Store. J. W. McCollum & Co., corner East Main and Union streets.

DEATH OF GOOD LADY.

Mrs. N. Orr, Oldest Winter Resident at Melrose, Passes Away.

MELROSE, Nov. 16.—Once more have the people of Melrose been called upon to mourn the loss of the oldest of the regular winter residents, Mrs. N. Orr, of Hokokus, N. J., who died at her cottage "The Home Acre," on the shores of Lake Santa Fe, on Friday night, aged 84 years.

For the past twenty-six years Mrs. Orr has been with us every winter, adding by her presence much to the intellectual and social features of the Melrose seasons.

In her younger days Mrs. Orr was a valued contributor to many of the best magazines, besides publishing several works of her own.

Rev. C. B. Hedrick officiated at the funeral services, held on Sunday morning, the body being later on shipped North for burial in the family lot in the old historic Parramas cemetery, near Hokokus, N. J.

The sincerest sympathy of the entire community is extended to her three daughters and their families.

NEWS OF CITY AND COUNTY CONDENSED

Mrs. D. C. Edwards has returned to her home in Ocala, after a pleasant visit to her daughter, Mrs. T. B. Stringfellow, in this city. Mrs. Edwards resided in Gainesville for a number of years, and her friends here are always delighted to greet her.

Through an oversight an error was made in the address in the Ludden & Bates' S. M. H. advertisement in Sunday's paper. The address should be 23 East Bay street instead of West Bay street. Their ad. appears again today, to which the attention of our readers is requested. They have large warerooms and a beautiful line of instruments.

Answer This Question

When a remedy has lived for over thirty years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and thousands upon thousands of women declare they owe their very lives to it, is it not reasonable to believe that it is an article of great merit?

We challenge the world to show any other one remedy for a special class of disease which has attained such an enormous demand and maintained it for so many years as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the famous woman's remedy for woman's ills. Unless it is a very good medicine and the claims made for it are honest, such a record would have been impossible—fraud or misrepresentations would long ago have been detected and the business gone into oblivion. Read this unsolicited letter:—

Melbourne, Iowa:—"I suffered for many years with female troubles, inflammation, and bearing-down pains, so that I was unable to do my work.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and I am so thankful for the great good it has done me. I feel that I am a living advertisement for this medicine as I have influenced so many of my friends to use it, so thankful am I that it restored me to health."—Mrs. Clara Watermann, R. D. 1, Melbourne, Iowa.

When a woman like Mrs. Watermann is generous enough to write such a letter as the above for publication, she should at least be given credit for a sincere desire to help other suffering women. For we assure you there is no other reason why she should court such publicity.

We say it in all sincerity and friendship—try this medicine.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad declined to say more than that the men are just as safe now as they were yesterday at this time. The mine is too big and has too many ramifications to be filled with smoke yet. Besides the smoke is not carried downward by any air currents. If the men were alive yesterday, every man may be alive now.

Mr. Earling caused a house to house canvass of the miners to be made. This showed 256 miners missing, but some of the families were not at home and it is believed when a complete list is obtained the number of entombed miners will exceed three hundred.

The morning dawned hopefully. At an early hour the main shaft, which had been sealed since Saturday, was opened and a determined effort begun by the experts and volunteers to release the living miners, or drag the bodies from the wreckage.

Before 9 o'clock the crowd assembled around the roped enclosure and the workmen broke the seals of the shaft. There was little smoke in evidence and this gave hope to the investigators that the fire had been smothered and that they would at least be enabled to enter the mine.

Find No Dead Bodies.

Mine Examiner James Taylor, R. V. Williams and others appeared in their oxygen outfits and helmets, ready to descend.

Several thousand persons leaned forward and a short time later the experts emerged from the shaft. A report that bodies had been found was denied by the investigators.

The cage was lowered again. Fifteen minutes passed. Then a blast of the horn, signalling the ascent, echoed through the shaft.

The explorers reported that they had walked in a vein of the mine for 150 feet from the base of the shaft and they had found no living nor dead bodies. The atmosphere in this vein was considerably better than had been expected. With the aid of the electric lanterns the searchers had been able to see plainly.

In other veins leading from the shaft much smoke was encountered and nothing could be seen. After consultation it was determined to start the ventilating fan at the opposite side of the mine to clear the galleries of the smoke.

Some believed that the draft might arouse a simmering fire. Others felt assured the fire has been smothered and that ventilation would clear the galleries and make them passable for the searchers.

Fire Again in the Mine.

In half an hour the fans were suddenly ordered stopped. Smoke began to pour from the main shaft. It was soon learned that fire had broken out afresh. Attempts to drown it proved futile so that it became necessary again to seal the shaft.

Inspector Taylor, one of the discoverers of the renewed fire, asserted that the flames had not spread beyond the stable of the mine. The purpose to have a quantity of coffins on hand was agreed upon as soon as the mine was re-sealed, although the information was carefully kept from the afflicted families.

Funerals of two of the men who died in an attempt to rescue the miners on Saturday and of one boy employe who tried to escape by climbing into the lowered cage, but died later, were held yesterday. The men were John Szbranski and Dominick Fremmento. The boy was John Tuhey.

Szbranski was a leader among the Lithuanians and was popular. His bravery in sacrificing his life in an attempt at rescue has made him a hero to his fellow countrymen and all his fellows that could go, attended his funeral in Spring Valley. Fremmento was a grover. He was among the first to enter the cage in which he lost his life.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB.

Interesting Meeting Was Held at the Home of Mrs. C. A. Colclough.

The regular meeting of the Twentieth Centruy Club was held on Monday, November 8th, at the elegant home of Mrs. C. A. Colclough on West Liberty street.

The business part was judiciously presided over by the president, Mrs. J. M. Taylor, who disposed of the various matters presented to the meeting in a very diplomatic manner, to the satisfaction of all the members present.

At the calling of the roll the members responded with an appropriate quotation from Mrs. Browning on love.

Mrs. J. L. Medlin in a pleasing manner was leader for the afternoon. An elaborate program was arranged for the afternoon. Mrs. J. M. Bell, Jr., read a most instructive paper on Venice, "The Dream City of the Adriatic," in such an effective manner as to cause the various members to imagine themselves transported to that beautiful city on the sea, gliding along in lovely gondolas.

Mrs. A. R. Harper read quite an interesting production on "Naples By the Bay," much to the edification of all the members present.

A duet was pleasingly rendered by Misdames B. F. Hampton and C. L. Brow.

A paper on Milan and the Italian Lakes was prepared by Mrs. W. B. Taylor.

An interesting article on "Florence, the Capital of Italy," by Mrs. G. P. Harris, added much to the enjoyment of the afternoon, followed by a recitation by Mrs. W. J. Denby.

The afternoon was one to be long remembered by the club.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the residence of Mrs. E. Cannon, on November 22nd, at 4 o'clock. PRESS REPORTER.

BURNING ECZEMA QUICKLY SPREAD

Started Like Ringworm on Hand—Hand Swelled and Then Humor Spread to Arms, Legs and Face—It was Something Terrible.

PRESCRIPTIONS FAILED: CUTICURA CURED HIM

"I have used the Cuticura Remedies for a very bad case of eczema with complete success. About fifteen or eighteen years ago the disease developed in the shape of a large pinhead on top of my hand. It burned and itched so much that I was compelled to show it to a doctor. He pronounced it ringworm, and made very light of it. He gave me a wash and told me to apply it before going to bed and all would be over in the morning. But the next morning my hand was all swollen up and I poulticed it. When the doctor came to his office I showed him the hand and to my surprise he told me that he had never experienced such a case in his practice and said it was well I poulticed it. After trying his different remedies the disease increased and went up my arms and finally to my thighs and legs generally and finally on my face. The burning was something terrible. After I had tried this doctor, as I thought, long enough, I went to another doctor who had the reputation of being the best in town. He told me it was a bad case of eczema and that it would take quite a while to cure it. His medicine checked the advance of the disease but no further.

"I finally concluded to try the Cuticura Remedies. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent and found relief in the first trial. I continued until I was completely free from the disease and I have not been troubled with another attack since. I still use the Cuticura Ointment in my family as it is one of the best remedies to heal a sore or other injury rapidly. I can freely and truthfully say that the Cuticura Remedies are the best so far as my experience went with them and I am still recommending them, feeling sure I am not making a mistake. C. Burkhart, 236 W. Market St., Chambersburg, Pa., Sept. 19, 1908."

AMUSEMENTS

"The Servant In the House."

Charles Rann Kennedy, author of "The Servant In the House," which will be at the Baird tomorrow night, believes that the number of actors in this country will be greatly decreased during the next few years, and that theatrical managers will ultimately disregard the star system. Mr. Kennedy argues that plays should be presented by small companies made up of carefully-trained and genuinely-talented actors.

"This plan," he says, "will greatly increase the salary lists, since managers will have to pay as much for 'buttons,' for example, as is now paid to actors with long-speaking parts. But that increased cost will be offset by the savings in other ways. The play of the future will hark back to the Greek form in many respects. How much better it will be to have one stage picture and let all the actions occur there than to lavish one's fortune on a doubtful stage venture with elaborate settings. If a play of the new type is not a success, who will suffer except the dramatist who produces faulty work? There will be no storehouse bugaboos in the future. The only storehouse will be the bookshelf where an unavailable manuscript will be allowed to rest in peace."

When a cold becomes settled in the system, it will take several days' treatment to cure it, and the best remedy to use is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will cure quicker than any other, and also leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. Sold by all druggists.

DON'T EXPERIMENT

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys.

If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is known to cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in this vicinity.

Can Gainesville residents demand further proof than that contained in the following testimonial?

Oscar Osterman, of Starke, Fla., says: "I give Doan's Kidney Pills my highest recommendation as they proved of more benefit to me than any other remedy I had previously used. I suffered from kidney trouble for some time. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and I was forced to arise from six to eight times during the night. I also had backache and was bothered by a pain through my loins. I finally procured Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon helped me. By the time I had taken the contents of two boxes, the backaches and pains entirely disappeared and the passages of the kidney secretions soon became regular. I now feel fifty per cent better than before in a long time."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
